The End?

September 28, 2014

It was interesting in that it seemed true to what we've heard about ISIS/ISIL, but (spoiler alert) I hated the ending. It did not in any way live up to the rest of the book. It seemed like the author got tired of writing and just wrapped it up in order to be finished. Cop out.

Great for Gray!

December 13, 2013

This stuff is great! I hope it will be forever available because I want a lifetime supply. Amazingly, I have gotten comments from strangers on how nice my "gray" looks. I sometimes use a clarifying shampoo first, then use Klorane last. That seems to be a good combination. It doesn't take much to lather up, so the bottle lasts quite a while.

PS: Just noticed the typo in the name of the product. (The "r" is missing.)

Great for Gray Hair!

May 08, 2013

I'm on my first bottle of this shampoo and I love it! I've gotten compliments from complete strangers. My hair has more body than before and the little stray hairs that seem to have a mind of their own are behaving much better. My hair is shiny and looks more healthy than before.

I've been using a purple/blue shampoo (guess I can't say the brand?) which I still like, but will probably switch between the two for a while.

My only complaint: Though there are numerous Klorane products that are available through Amazon Prime, this shampoo is not. Can we do something about that, Amazon?

Love These Guys!

November 01, 2012

I have loved the look of these shoes since I first saw them (somewhere else) last Spring in another color. I had about decided I'd never be able to wear flats again, but finally I tried these because they're so cute.

They're not absolutely perfectly supportive, but I can wear an orthotic in them (ordered a half size larger) and I think they're going to work. I probably won't walk miles in them but for some uses, I'll love wearing them. Love. I love strappy.

I'm vindicated!

August 20, 2012

I didn't buy this from Amazon. I bought it locally. Having used it, I thought I'd check in on Amazon just to see if anyone else had the same problems. Good grief! I wish I had read the Amazon reviews first! If the growth of the plants has anything to do with the randomness of the blue spray, every other plant will be gigantic and the others will starve. I even did the upside-down, shake, off-and-on routine that others did (funny we all tried the same things), but nothing helped.

I do love the product Miracle Grow, but I don't understand how they could get the sprayer so wrong.

I also got spray all over myself. I wonder if I'll get taller. Or maybe just one side of me will get taller.

Anyway, I'll be looking for a good sprayer as I have a great big box of Miracle Grow to use up.

LOVE THEM but...

July 31, 2012

I love these: comfort, looks, great walking shoes, but after about a month's use, the tiny cord at the front of the shoe has pulled apart on one of the shoes. Otherwise, they are holding together just fine. It looks like the stitching was too close to the edge to hold well. As it has come apart, it has revealed the white cord inside, so it's quite noticeable against the brown.

I think I've had these too long to ask for a replacement, but I do think they should have lasted longer than they have.

RATS!

Beautiful and almost perfect

November 20, 2011

I've had this bag for about a month and I still love it. The two things that would make it perfect:

1. I wish it had more inside compartments; the Fossil bag I had been carrying had a whole zippered middle section that divided the bag into two separate parts and interior side pockets as well. I miss that in this bag and I'm still trying to find the best place to put the things I use most - cell phone, pens, etc.

2. I've always carried shoulder bags, and thought it would be better for my back/shoulder if I stopped carrying a heavy bag on my shoulder. But I wish the handles were just a bit bigger so that when I have much to carry, or something to deal with that requires both hands, it COULD be stashed on my shoulder for a moment.

In any case, I'm still glad I got it because it's beautiful, roomy and sturdy. And almost perfect.

Double-check the Measurements!

December 13, 2013

Pay attention to "Product Description" and "Product Details." The measurements don't match. Unfortunately, when I ordered, I saw the "Product Details," which showed: "Dimensions: 0.2 x 5.2 x 14.2 inches". But the bags are actually what the "Product Description" says: 5" x 11-1/4". Sounds like I'm picky, and I guess I am, but sometimes these things make a difference when gift presentation is the whole reason for the order.

I can make it work, but I could have bought these locally. Oh well.

In addition, the bag says these are "cello" bags. I guess that's not the same as "cellophane." They're fine, but I was thinking I'd get the crispy clear stuff that crackles when you open it. Okay, I am picky. But there is a difference. Just know what you're getting before you order.

Where is the elf!

December 11, 2012

OK. Here's the deal. We're grandparents. We have no earthly idea where we put the elf from last year. We knew we'd better hide him well because it would be no good at all for him to show up, say, in July. But like so many other things in our house, we don't remember where we put him.

Wish they would sell replacement elves. Or elves with a remote so we could find him.

Whether we find the guy or replace him, I WILL make a note on next year's calendar telling myself his location. And if we replace him, I need to come up with a reason why there are two elves in our house, just in case elf #1 shows up.

Aside from that, we love the whole elf thing.

Reviewed Price Pfister 0264NSS Marielle Single-Handle Kitchen Faucet with Side Sprayer and Soap Dispenser, Stainless Steel ...

PRETTY IS AS PRETTY DOES.

August 16, 2010

For such a pretty thing, this is one ugly faucet! Actually, mine is oil-rubbed bronze, but it's the same exact faucet. Yes, I fell for its good looks and thought that Price Pfister was a good brand. The price made it appear to be a good brand, anyway. As with other reviewers, the sprayer is a main issue. We're on our third sprayer. In our case, each time it has split apart in the middle - along the seam, I think. It squirts out water through this leak and gets whoever is standing nearby. My "fix" has been to leave it in the sink full-time until we could get a replacement and call a plumber. For all its good looks, the sprayer is plastic and wimpy and drippy.

Here's an amazing thing: Price-Pfister Customer Service Guy seems quite surprised that we've had such trouble with the sprayer! No, he hasn't heard of this being a problem before.

Yes, there's a lifetime warranty as long as you're the original owner of the faucet, but normally Price-Pfister charges for shipping of the new sprayer part. And of course, plumbers don't work for free, so we've spent a bundle on this "beauty". Last week we had a new problem with the faucet. The water pressure in the faucet slows to a trickle and is fixed by turning it off, giving the sprayer a squirt, then turning the water back on. I was told that the diverter is the problem this time.

The plumber was here to fix that as well as (unrelated) our disposall. His recommendation was to quit spending money and frustration on it and get another brand. Can I say which brand? Hmm. It starts with a "D" and has five letters. And in his opinion, if we do that, we won't have to call him about our faucet for a long, long time. And that's what I'm doing on Amazon tonight. The End.
